Prominent Party Touring Florida.

Among the guests of the Windsor is General Felix Agnus, the publisher of the Baltimore American. General Agnus arrived in Jacksonville Sunday morning in his private car, with a party of friends, who will be his guests at St. Augustine and Palm Beach, and eventually Cuba.

His guests include Mr. Paul Sterrett, the president of the George A. Fuller Construction Company; Hon. William S. Carroll, who was President Cleveland's Minister to Saxony; Mr. William Thomas, a prominent young attorney of Baltimore, and Mr. Louis Garabie, the Washington correspondent of the American. The trip is given by General Agnus to celebrate the completion by the Fuller Company of the American's new sixteen-story steel building, whereby the American on the anniversary of the destruction of its old building in the great Baltimore fire, was enabled to appear from its new home on its splendid new presses.

Birthday Anniversary

A surprise was planned and carried out very successfully yesterday afternoon at the parsonage of the First M. E. church, by the Ladies Aid Society. The occasion was the seventy-second birthday anniversary of Mrs. Waincott, Mrs. Troxel's mother, who is spending the winter at this parsonage home.

The afternoon was spent in the way common to such a band of genial and lovely women. At the close a dainty luncheon was served, which sent every one away in a happy spirit.

This band of ladies have been untiring in their efforts to make the pastor and his family comfortable in their home, and are now engaged in planning and having provided improvements for the interior of the parsonage that will make it very comfortable and attractive to the family and the host of friends who visit them. The feature particularly enjoyable to the pastor and family is the fact that it is being done without a single request from those who are to be so happily favored. Such ladies ought to live a hundred years.

Birthday Party.

Ruth Stewart, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stewart, celebrated her eighth birthday yesterday evening by inviting twenty of her young friends to a party at The Seaside Inn. The tables were loaded with many of the goodies dear to the children's hearts and were decorated with candles and evergreens, a beautiful birthday cake occupying a prominent place. After the children had eaten to their hearts' content games were indulged in, the entertainment finishing with a dance, the music being furnished by the hotel orchestra.

B. B. Johnson, N. Y., Jas. O. Wynn and wife, Atlanta; Mrs. Jas. A. Ford, Miss Dora Ford, Lyndberg, Va.; Mrs. M. E. Bates, New York, are guests of The Palmetto.

Christian Convention.

The Florida State Missionary Convention of the Christian Church is being held in Jacksonville this week beginning this evening, when the convention sermon will be preached by Rev. A. R. Miller, of Savannah.

The Christian denomination in Florida cannot be classed among the stronger denominations but there is nevertheless a large following. A number of noted divines of the United States will attend the convention. In addition to this there are a number of women who have arrived from various states to take part in the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Knox and their daughter, Mrs. S. A. Miller, of Buffalo, are again registered at The Ridgewood.

Tonight at the Opera House.

Wm. J. and E. B. Joselyn will present the Congress of Nations and Ben Hur at the Opera House tonight. Eight hundred colored photographic plates scenes the full size of the stage opening, traveling across the entire stage from right to left, will present all there is to be seen on the entire earth worth looking at.

This is the only attraction of the kind ever presented here and one which is said to have cost the owners over $4,000. The pictures are operated by an engine and are kept moving all the time.

The Nebraska Senate has passed a law that organ grinder's monkeys shall not work over 8 hours per day. The Nebraska "Missing Link" has a better show than the Florida mechanic.

ASCENDING BEAUTIFUL RIDGEWOOD—DAYTONA'S FINEST STREET

Musical at G. W. Brown's.

One of the happiest gatherings of the season was entertained last night by Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Brown in their pleasant home, 222 Ridgewood avenue. Each winter, for three months, these kind people have with them a party of from eight to ten people from different parts of the north and west to enjoy their home and this climate, and each spring, before separating to go to their different homes, their entertainers give a social function, to which many local friends are bidden.

The special feature in last night's entertainment was the music provided, which was by Major Jno. V. Downing, of Middleport, Ohio, with his impersonations and skill with the violin, was a splendid treat and thoroughly enjoyed by all. His organ and violin, and received deserved praise. The other part of the program was furnished in song by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Harris, the well known evangelists and singers, of Evanston, Ill. These people have been in the city a month and it is safe to say that no sweeter singers have been heard here. They sing the gospel hymns in a way that reaches hearts as few preachers can do in sermons. They sang last night at their best and their songs thrilled and edified their delighted hearers until, in the closing song, all present plunged into the chorus and sang as with a common spirit that soul stirring, "In the Sweet Bye and Bye."

An Auto Mishap.

Two prominent gentlemen, out for an auto ride Saturday, were discussing auto troubles, when one of them remarked that it was his luck to always have some unpleasant experience when he was responsible for the condition of the machine. His friend, who was driving and had prepared the auto for the evening's trip, stated that he had never yet had an unpleasant experience. He had hardly made the statement when the auto stopped and, upon examination, the tank was found to be empty of gasoline. The first speaker, after a prolonged whistle, remarked: "See! bring more gasoline if you want to keep up your record."

To which the unlucky driver replied: "Oh! Let up, this is the first time. You give me a Paine."
